We have a distinguished panel of outside experts to address the fundamentals of why the United States should invest significant resources to develop and deploy defenses against ballistic missile attack. Dr. Keith B. Payne is president of the National Institute for Public Policy. An adjunct professor at Georgetown University, Dr. Payne has written and spoken extensively on deterrence and ballistic missile defense. Dr. Kathleen Bailey is a senior fellow at Lawrence Livermore National Laboratory. From 1987 to 1990, Dr. Bailey was assistant director for nonproliferation at the Arms Control and Disarmament Agency. Dr. Theodore Gold is with Hicks Associates, and has focused on the applications of technology to national security issues. In the coming weeks, this committee will closely examine U.S. ballistic missile defense requirements. We will be looking carefully at our requirements for both theater and...
