

Speeches of Hon.: Horatio Seymour, at the Conventions Held at Albany, January 31, 1861 and September 10, 1862 (Classic Reprint) (Paperback)

By Horatio Seymour

Forgotten Books, United States, 2015. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 229 x 152 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Speeches of Hon.: Horatio Seymour, at the Conventions Held at Albany, January 31, 1861 and September 10, 1862 Hon. Horatio Seymour appeared upon the stand, and was received with loud and long continued applause. He said: It has been truly said by the President of this Convention that, we do not meet for partisan purposes, although we are assembled in pursuance of a call issued by a political organization. There was no other mode by which we could act as a representative body. The people of the State are divided into two groat parties, one of which gave at the late Presidential contest more than three hundred and fifty thousand, and the other more than three hundred and ten thousand votes for their respective candidates. We have waited with patient expectation for some effort on the part of the responsible majority to avert the calamities which overhang our country. We have hailed with joy every indication of a desire on their part to meet the duties of their position. We have given a cordial approval...

READ ONLINE
[5.17 MB]

Reviews

Certainly, this is actually the best job by any article writer. It can be loaded with knowledge and wisdom I realized this pdf from my i and dad advised this book to discover.

-- Ms. Verlie Goyette

The most effective pdf i ever go through. It is probably the most incredible book i have got study. You wont sense monotony at at any time of the time (that's what catalogues are for relating to if you check with me).

-- Ahmad Heaney